Appointment Procedure Still Plaguing Council Sessions; Plan Appeal

(Related article on Page 36)

Granite City council members fought the battle of city engineers all over again Monday night, and had to override another majority veto to win. As a result, the council, ignoring the contention of Mayor Donald Partney that the council has no authority to name either a consulting engineering or a motor fuel tax consultant, will sign a new contract with Research Planning & Design Associates of St. Louis for the current year ending next Dec. 31 as the city's consulting engineer on motor fuel tax projects. At the same time, the council ignored an announcement by the mayor that he was appointing Chief of Police Ronald Vester for 30 days under a system which was held illegal last week by a circuit court ruling handed down in a case filed against the mayor by 12 of the council's aldermen.

Shortly after Monday night's council session got under way, the mayor announced the Vester appointment (for 30 days) and simultaneously announced his veto of a motion approved in the March 15 council meeting which instructed Alderman

Charles Moerlein to sign a new MFT consulting engineering contract with the Research Planning firm. The mayor has refused consistently to recognize a majority council selection of the Research Planning firm as a consulting engineer or MFT engineer. Discussion immediately centered on the veto. Several aldermen asked what effect elimination of an MFT consulting engineer would have on pending street improvement projects. The city now has motor fuel tax projects pending that involve more than a half million dollars, for which a consulting engineer's services are essential to qualify for state grants. Projects Unaffected Partney told the council it would have no effect whatever, that Kenneth Kieberger, press-

Expansion at Reilly Tar is 50% Done

The Granite City plant of Reilly Tar & Chemical Co. "is at its peak of production and I can see no end to its advance," Kenneth "Pat" Morrison, plant manager, began during a tour of the firm's 50% expansion program.

Construction work on the $200,000 project is half finished, two weeks ahead of schedule, and an operational target date has been set for mid-August, Morrison said. Morrison and Edward Evans, Midwest sales representative for the firm, pointed out the need for the new tar and creosote oil storage tanks now being constructed, committing on new firms utilizing their basic products.

One of the new customers is the Noranda Aluminum Co. which has a new plant in operation at New Point, Mo. Reilly provides Noranda with electro-binder pitch for a variety of uses. Morrison noted that the material is used in air pollution control facilities.

Air Pollution Controls He added that the same material is being utilized in the expanding facilities here and the older portions of the plant are being updated to meet the same standards in the fight for clean air.

Both Morrison and Evans reside in Granite City, and Morrison said, "I am just as interested as anyone else in eliminating bad air here." He was hopeful that other local industries will soon achieve the same measure of success.

SIU Board to Rule on Use of 'Artistic' Fees

Harold R. Fischer, chairman of the Board of Trustees of Southern Illinois University, said today the University's contribution toward operation of the Mississippi River Festival in 1969 and 1970 was $273,630. Total operating expense of the festival for the two seasons was $335,572.

The remaining $61,942 in operating expense was paid for through ticket sales, a foundation grant, and through contributions from SIU students, the St. Louis Symphony Society, and the public, he said.

Fischer's comments were made at a press conference held at the southwestern campus of SIU.

The festivals, including concerts by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra and popular contemporary artists, attracted a total of more than 290,000 persons.

Amphitheater Cost

Fischer said SIU-SW had paid $24,261 for the construction of a multi-purpose outdoor amphitheater which was used for the festivals and has also been used for other events such as commencements, student activities, and intercollegiate music festivals. SIU-SW academic facilities do not include any large auditorium.

Funds used for the operation of the festival came from reimbursements from sponsors for university expenditures in connection with grants, projects and training programs plus a small amount of state appropriation.

Mobile Teams Could Help Reduce Need to Enter Mental Hospitals

(Seventh of a series on the Quad-City mental health center.)

In essence, each pre-care, after-care mobile team currently proposed—two in southern Madison County and two in northern Madison County—would be responsible for picking up a person before entry into a hospital for mental care, and providing the appropriate resources and alternatives, and by following through to insure that such alternatives are being received by the consumer.

Likewise, each team has the responsibility of insuring coordinated, joint planning with appropriate community providers upon entry to and discharge from the hospital and re-entry into the community.

The teams would have a primary area of responsibility within their assigned catchment areas. However, to insure continuity of services, the team's mobility and structure permits their movement into the other catchment area should the consumer's moves dictate.

Mobility of the team is seen as an essential element in this program.

It makes possible a more direct relationship with the consumer and mental health providers in a manner easily accessible to the consumer. Additionally, it places several mental health after-care teams in the communities where they will be relating with local doctors, hospitals, police, schools and clergy—providing greater community awareness of mental health problems and services.

With this broader community exposure and involvement with the emotionally ill, it is felt that the readmission and admission rate to the State Hospital would be affected through the effective use of the team concept in delivering comprehensive services in a mobile, coordinated effort.

Related agencies: The mobile team concept approach makes it possible to involve relevant community resources within the consumer's community.

Local hospitals, police, schools and physicians will be exposed to and consulted on providing the network of services necessary to meet the consumer's health needs.

The Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, the Department of Public Aid, local physicians, police and mental health clinics could—through continuous exposure to the after-care teams—become more viable, cooperating providers to meet the needs of the individual in the community.

Target population: The proposed program would

Lake Delay Causing Problems

The pace of Horseshoe Lake State Park acquisition is creating severe problems for lake of many affected residents, Mr. Dan Malkovich (former acting conservation director) presented a map of 4000-plus acres which he said would be acquired.

"As of March 19, I was advised that guidelines had never been established for the 1700 acres. This leaves residents of the state, who own the airport and has been leasing it to Dr. Paul Pfaff of Collinsville, Illinois, in a bind," he said. "The General Assembly voted to acquire 1700 acres of the lake as a park over a year ago. At a meeting of the Sixty Ward in which the present administration for its inception.

"If no guidelines are established, why have four pieces of property been acquired by the department?" Nichols asked. He added that there is no personal resentment against Barkhausen because he is new in the director's post. "I know you inherited and were not responsible for the problems. But I have had hundreds of phone calls and I know that many people would appreciate answers."

Nichols linked Conservation Department lease policies to the airport shutdown and said, "Since we are on the subject of leases, and the Department of Conservation putting private operators out of business, it might be well if we discussed the state leasing that portion of Horseshoe Lake in Madison County that is now being used each summer for boating, skiing and water recreation.

Await Vote on 124 New Homes

By HARRY BARNES Press-Record Staff Writer

A move to kill a proposal for rezoning and annexation of a 31-acre tract of Naneski township land on which construction of 124 homes is planned, was sidetracked by a majority vote of the Granite City Council Monday night, but opponents succeeded in holding up final acceptance pending further investigation into several points at issue.

Climaxing a long argument over drainage and zoning issues that date back nearly two years, the council voted 9 to 6 to approve a City Plan Commission report recommending that the site be rezoned and annexed. But the council did not proceed Monday night with adoption of rezoning and annexation ordinances, although these bills had been prepared and were ready for presentation.

The issue involves a petition by A. R. Cooper of the Dale Construction Co. to rezone a site on the east side of Maryville Road at Terminal Avenue, on which the firm plans to build 124 homes of varying design, costs ranging from $15,000 to $22,000, and for annexation of the site to Granite City. The home owner of the building project is the "235" section of the Federal Housing Act which provides financing aides to buyers in low-income brackets.

A similar effort to obtain approval and rezoning of the tract by Cooper of a building project was turned down by the council nearly two years ago. In the new request for rezoning, Cooper asks the 31 acres be rezoned from R-2 single family residential to R-3 single family residential. A City Plan Commission recommendation that the rezoning and annexation be approved was presented to the council in its March 15 meeting, but action at that time was blocked by a deferral motion.

Spearheading opposition to the plan are Aldermen Gerald Parmley and Paul Schuler of the Sixth Ward in which the site, if annexed, would be located. They have objected primarily on grounds that drainage plans for the proposed subdivision are inadequate.

As arguments grew hotter in Monday night's meeting, Parmley charged also that

"235" homes in other areas have created problems by attracting an "undesirable" populace to such homes because of easy financing terms subsidized by the government. On the other hand, approval of the rezoning and annexation was supported in the March 15

$85,000 Harding 24-Hour Operation at Avenue Surfacing Poison Control Center

Improvement of Harding Avenue from Jefferson Avenue to the city limits and an appropriation of $85,000 in motor fuel tax funds to finance the construction were approved by Granite City council members Monday night.

The project is in addition to a growing list of MFT projects that already exceed a half-million dollars in MFT cost. The resolution approving the project provides for installation of combination concrete curb and guttering with a bituminous surface and drainage installations.

Under the supervision of Sister Mary Benedict, chief pharmacist, the St. Elizabeth Hospital Poison Control Center was organized in August 1968, offering for the first time its special services to the community and surrounding area.

Since then, an average of 200 poison cases are handled each year. Most of the poison victims treated are children under 12 years. However, adults also receive treatment at the Center.

Many Take Aspirin
Of the 125 cases at the local hospital last year, one-third of the youngsters had ingested quantities of aspirin, Sister Mary Benedict said.

The local Poison Control Center is connected with the hospital emergency room, where a cabinet, completely equipped with about 100 antidotes, was installed when the center began operating.

A small library also is available, consisting of books on toxicology (the study of poisons) and a card file which lists the most common poisons, their symptoms and treatment. Both serve as a quick reference and source of information to the doctors and nurses who handle the poison cases, Sister Mary Benedict noted.

Miss Glenda Moore, R.N., director of the Poison Control Center, has a special telephone number, 876-2020, extension 224. The number may be reached day or night for immediate information and services.

Recognized by State
Shortly after it was organized, the St. Elizabeth Poison Control Center was officially recognized by the Illinois Department of Public Health, Division of Preventive Medicine.

A complete report of every received case patient, under 12 years is sent to the state agency which follows up the incident with helpful suggestions and advice to parents, the chief pharmacist noted.

Not only a center for treatment of poison cases, the St. Elizabeth Hospital staff works diligently to prevent accidental poisonings. Many copies of check hazard check lists and antidote charts have been distributed to Quad-City residents since the inception of the program.

According to Sister Mary Benedict, who also serves as director of the center, "We are happy to be able to render this service to the community and hope to be instrumental in saving many lives, especially of children whose parents fail to protect them against these hazards."

Public Asked to Nominate Outstanding Police Officer

Do you know a Quad-City police officer whose personal character, professional competence and attitude make him an outstanding example of a law enforcement officer?

If the answer is "yes," you are invited to nominate the officer by clipping and completing the ballot published with this item. The ballot must be mailed before midnight, April 10, to the Granite City Elks Lodge 1063 at 1329 Niedringhaus Ave.

Sponsored by the local Elks

Club; the search for the "Outstanding Police Officer of the Year" will result in selection of a candidate to be presented an award and accorded community recognition at the first annual "Law and Order Banquet" set for Wednesday, May 12.

All ranks of police officers from the four-community area are eligible to be nominated for the honor, with exception of police chiefs and assistant chiefs. Clyde F. Mertz, Elks Lodge project chairman, said. The exception was made after consultation with the local ranking police officials.

The only other requirement, Mertz said, is that the candidate must be in police work on a full-time basis. Young people, as well as adults, are invited to submit nominations, he noted.

Criteria to be judged in conferring the award will include the candidate's professional ability, community participation, attitude and cooperation toward the public, colleagues and job; his personal and family life; and his achievements, commendations and educational merits, the Elks official said.

MORE ABOUT Mobile Teams

offer a mobile after-care team to deliver the previously described services to the following target population within the county:

• Adults and children who are low-income persons discharged from state institutions.

• Low-income persons who are identified by other service providers as needing hospitalization.

• Special target populations such as the alcoholic, drug addict, geriatric, or emotionally disturbed children who would then be referred to other clinic programs which are designed to offer services to these specific high-risk groups.

Accessibility: The services provided under this program would be mobile in nature. That is, the various teams would be designed to deliver services where the consumer is located in the community.

The program would be periodically evaluated. Some of the criteria used would be admission rate to Alton State Hospital, readmission rate to Alton State Hospital, length of hospital stay, reaction of other service agencies to this program and reaction of patients and patients' families.

Kastelic to Retire After 29 Years on Police Dept.

Joseph Kastelic Sr., chief of detectives on the Granite City Police Department and a member of the department for 29 years, announced today that he would resign from the department Monday night in a letter of resignation to the city council.

Mr. Kastelic, who lives at 3522 Carleton St., was informed by the council that he had attained eligibility for retirement and was submitting his resignation effective April 20.

"I am proud to have served on the department for the past 29 years and will always retain in my memory the many challenges presented in law enforcement," he said in his resignation.

Alderman Walter Nomm commented that "Mr. Kastelic has been one of the finest police officers on our police department. It is with regret that we will see him leave."

Nomm moved to accept the resignation and provided in the motion that the city council prepare an adequate plaque to be presented to the retiring officer to honor him for his service to the city.

Mr. Kastelic is a native and

Teacher Locals To Host 300 at State Meeting

Over 300 delegates representing teacher locals throughout Illinois will meet in St. Louis tomorrow through Sunday for the 33rd annual convention of the Illinois Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, at the Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel.

The convention is being hosted by the Southwest Area Council of the IFT and its member locals: Granite City, East St. Louis, Collinsville, Belleville, DuPont, Venice, Madison and Cahokia.

Delegates to the convention will be faced with many decisions, including electing four officers and 12 committee chairs; a proposal for a dues increase; and amendments to the constitution which would radically change the operation of the IFT.

In his report to the Convention, Executive Director Oscar Weil will recommend that the convention take action to force a writ of mandamus to force the state to meet obligations to the Teachers Retirement Fund.

In his report, Weil says that "the state legislature violates the pension codes every year by failing to appropriate the amount of money required by law. The laws require the state to pay $1.20 into the funds for each $1 paid in by teachers. The state has violated it to the extent that 75% of all the money in the retirement funds is the teachers' money. The Teachers Retirement Fund alone is underfinanced by $600 million."

In order for the state to meet its obligation to the Pension Fund, Weil will recommend that IFT initiate legislation calling for the state to sell bonds in the amount necessary to fund the system.

"Two Granite Cityans will seek reelection to state posts. Mrs. Beverly Williams is treasurer and Mrs. Helen Bjorkman is defense chairman."

She was a resident of Granite City 14 years. She was born in Elco, Ill.

She was a member of the Third Baptist Church, providing jobs for a great many craftsmen.

"We had better wake up," she told the council Monday night. "We have men walking the streets in this town. We need work and we need the taxes that would come from more homeowners in this area. I would so welcome a project like this in the Fifth Ward."

Discussion of the issue opened Monday night by Nomm who referred to the deferral motion on the City Plan Commission report the week previous, and said:

"Get it in Open. We all know what we're waiting for, so we might just as well get it out of our system. Now then a urged council approval of the City Plan Commission report, an action necessary to clear the way for submitting ordinances for rezoning."

"I do have an ordinance on the matter, but I don't present it until we get around to the rezoning of the Fifth Ward," Schuler surprised council members with a new argument for development of the Maryville Road improvement for which the county has appropriated $1.5 million and which he has "indicated" is $320,000 as part of a state-city plan to extend Maryville Road to the Fifth Ward.

Other campaign dinners will be in Belleville, May 22 and Chicago, June 21.

Nomm maintains Granite City faces the problem of how to get the additional tax base it can get and that the work of building 12 dwellings would provide jobs for a great many craftsmen.

10 Cases Thefts, Burglary Occur Here This Week

Ten cases of burglary and theft were reported to Granite City authorities this week. Two burglaries and eight thefts occurred after they were seen arrested from a southwestern Bell telephone truck which had reported stolen from the rear of 2120 Bryan Ave. at 2:20 p.m. Tuesday.

The truck was found in the 1600 block of Delmar Ave. Police caught one of the boys in the 1800 block of Delmar Ave. Cleveland Boulevard and Delmar and the other in the 1800 block between Edison Avenue and State Street.

Barbar Obyran, 2569 Madison Ave., reported Monday that a 12-inch portable television set and a console stereo set valued at $359 were stolen in a burglary of her home. Entry was gained by pulling open a screen door and breaking the rear door with a broom handle.

Stolen Truck in Wreck
A truck owned by Anthony Dicks was stolen from 17th Street and Madison Avenue, struck the rear of the auto of Billy West, 1927 Salem Madison, and was stopped for a traffic light at 8:20 p.m. Monday at 20th Street and Madison Avenue, where the driver of the truck walked away from the scene.

Rings and watches valued at $255 were stolen from the home of Nellie Nicol, 2001 Marshall Ave., within the past month. The items were stolen at 1:35 p.m. Wednesday.

The lost included a lady's diamond wedding and diamond engagement rings, a white gold wedding band, an initial ring, a lady's white gold pearl ring, a lady's sapphire birthstone ring and a man's and a lady's watches.

The Terminal Railroad Association reported yesterday that $25 in canned meat were stolen from a freight car in the railroad yards Tuesday night. Thieves stole between 60 and 70 wrapped roses and shrubs from Schermer's Garden Shop, 1416 N. 28th St., at Belleville Avenue, it was reported to a Madison police yesterday.

Purse Stolen
Frances Breckner, 533 English Place, Mitchell, reported at 3:30 p.m. Monday that her brown drawing purse was stolen from her car while it was parked at the Nemo's Village shopping center. It contained contact lenses, cosmetics and $1.60.

Carl W. Crippen, Birchtree, Mo., reported Monday that a tire valued at $50 was stolen from his pickup truck while it was parked at 2607 Denver St. Gertrude Wimbish, 2041 Washington Ave., reported at 9 p.m. Wednesday that her 1964 beige four-door auto was stolen from the back yard at 2607 Hodges Ave. since Sunday. It had a flat tire and an empty radio.

Up to this point no one had made a motion toward action on the matter. Nomm moved that the City Plan Commission's report recommending approval of the rezoning and annexation be approved.

More discussion followed with several aldermen pointing out that while the housing project would be an addition to Granite City, they believed further checking should be done into the possibility of the effect of the annexation on the cost of the Maryville Road project.

Aldermen Sam Whitmer, Charles Moerlein and Clyde Boyd were among those suggesting the council learn more about the possibility of a $22,000 increase in the Maryville Road cost before proceeding with the annexation.

Nomm mentioned that he had ordinances providing for the rezoning and annexation, but there were muttered suggestions that he wait until next meeting to present them.

Copper told the Press-Record following the Monday night meeting that his plans were for construction of two and three bedroom homes in a price range of $18,000 to $22,000 and that full provisions for sewage and other facilities had been made.

On the roll call vote Monday night on Nomm's motion to approve the City Plan Commission recommendation for rezoning and annexation, those voting yes were Nomm, Basarich, Boyd, William Dallas, R. E. Robertson, Ray P. Claiborne, Green, Emerald Dawes and Everett Morien.

It's 89 ways better than a Volkswagen.

The car you see before you has almost twice as much trunk space as the Volkswagen Beetle. It gives you a more solid and shorter turning radius than the Beetle.

It even has a longer lasting, more powerful engine than the Beetle.

All told, this car has 89 things you've never seen inside the Beetle.

In fact, it's so superior to the Beetle, we couldn't call it the Beetle anymore. So we gave it a more solid, more modern exterior make it truly a new name.

We call it SUPER BEETLE.

Nameoki Board Commends Group for Acquiring Dobrey Slough Drainage

Four homeowners residing in the vicinity of Dobrey Slough introduced the resolution, which was commended Monday evening by the Nameoki Town Board for initiating action to alleviate poor drainage conditions in the township area.

Board members also accepted the annual audit and reviewed recommendations designed to improve fiscal policies in handling township funds. The audit and comments were submitted by Ralph F. Curry, a certified public accountant, retained by the township.

Cited in a resolution approved unanimously by the township officials were Mrs. Helen Hawkins and a citizen's committee consisting of John Walls, Jerry Voloski and William Eads.

The four local residents were recognized. "In consideration of their outstanding efforts of gathering facts and information concerning the serious flooding in Dobrey Slough," and "for making the proper governmenting agencies aware of the problem, in order that proper action might be taken to alleviate the condition," the board's resolution stated.

Town Clerk Louis Whitsell in all general ledger accounts, enabling the current status of each fund to be shown.

Posting expenditures in the Highway Commissioners' Fund on a monthly basis would enable errors to be corrected immediately and a physical inventory of material and supplies in the same department should be made periodically and at the conclusion of the fiscal year, the report stated.

The auditor also recommended investment of idle funds in all accounts, when appropriate, and recommended a numerical system to maintain records in issuing vouchers and checks.

In recommending tighter accounting procedures, involving internal and financial control, the auditing firm urged consideration of several specific areas in which more effective and efficient fiscal policies could be practiced.

Among those suggested for each of the township's four funds — Town, General, Assistance, Municipal Retirement and Highway Commissioners — included a monthly bill list, briefly describing the goods or services and whether items were purchased on contract or with prior approval, numbered accounts relating to specific budget appropriations; and balancing of all general ledger accounts, enabling the current status of each fund to be shown.

"Reach out and touch someone's hand; make this world a better place if you can." Senior religion students at St. Teresa Academy and Assumption High School, East St. Louis, have been actively working at putting this song into action in the diocese of Belleville.

Fifteen senior girls and boys acted as catalysts in providing a panel on value differences between teens and adults at four CCD Adult Education Centers in East St. Louis, Belleville, Waterloo, and Centralia.

At these four centers the students engaged more than 125 adults in a serious and stimulating dialogue about the value differences that are present today in our communities. One girl said, "It wasn't the big bad establishment castigating communists-hippie youth, nor did the teenagers turn all the adults into 'beats'."

Rather, it was an opportunity for communication and for growth in understanding about different ideas and values. The adult youth panels provided both the teens and the adults the opportunity to discuss their differences openly and reasonably in a calm, "safe," atmosphere.

Topics ranged from hair (the long and short of it) to drugs, the church, sex and marriage. Both adults and teens were extremely positive in their reactions. Some of the teens observed that the biggest differences appeared to be between adults, not between adults and teens. Many adults remarked that they were eager for more opportunities to discuss "what's going on" and what young people are thinking.

Participants in the programs went away feeling that, while minds may not have been changed, some real communication and exchange of ideas had begun.

Project Outreach (of direct interaction between adults and youth) grew out of an experimental senior religion program at St. Teresa's, which is attempting to help prepare students to recognize, cross and reconcile boundaries by reaching beyond oneself and one's community.

Participants in the programs included Ariel Brown, Mary Leik, Marilyn Klinger, Patti Werner, Diane Kowalczyk, Mary Vrabec, Judy Walker, Natalie Woodson—all from St. Teresa—and Ed Kitchen, Fred Goigier, John Lesagovich, Chip Stokes, Denny Hatches, Dave Salinak, and John Malec—from Assumption High.

The panels were developed by Father Stan Roth of St. Teresa and Father Tom Smith of Assumption.

Functional Auditorium Needed—GCHS Faculty

An auditorium replacement committee at Granite City High School has called for a new auditorium which will be functional and acoustically satisfactory and has recommended future construction of a library visual and learning center.

The committee noted that with the band, vocal music, speech, debate and other areas of performing arts that have developed at the school, not having an auditorium "would be just like having a football team and no football field to play on."

On the committee are Lawrence C. McCauley, principal; Miss Barbara Kerch, Richard King, Louis Meek and Vasil Elitoff.

The board, soon to employ an architect for the project, is awaiting feasibility studies before reaching a final decision.

Vocal Music Spring Trip Planned at GCHS

The vocal music department of Granite City High School is planning a spring trip to Atlanta, Ga., and the Smoky Mountains after receiving approval from the Board of Education Monday night.

The group will leave during the evening of May 4 and return the morning of May 8. Concerts will be presented to one or two Atlanta area schools.

The trip will cost about $72 per person for 77 students and four chaperones for a total of $5,522. The vocal music athletic fund, is at $2,644 and an additional $2,600 is expected from candy sales for the year, providing a balance of $5,655. The rest of the cost would be divided among the students.

He indicated fiscal policies existing in 1969 and 1970 have been judged inadequate and that corrective steps have been taken.

The board now requires that its special committee be organized for payment of any architectural, engineering, or artistic fees, Fischer said.

Steps also have been taken, through the reorganization of the University, to guarantee that all land which requires Board of Higher Education approval are properly submitted to that board, the chairman said.

and land to a private operator who in turn covers the area with accident insurance and operates a boat launching and swimming area.

"It might be well for the state to lease this, as they derive the revenue for boat launching, fishing licensing, etc. The state would not be subject to the insurance liability to which the private operator is subject."

Nichols outlined changing attitudes during the department during several leadership changes, and charged that the pattern has made it impossible for Lakeside Airport on Highway 111 to compete with other leasing state land near Collinsville.

Players Announce Lead Roles for 'The Music Man'

Miss Carol Lynn Humphrey and William Hoelscher will portray the leading roles in the East Bank Players' production, "The Music Man." It was announced today by officials of the Quad-City area's theatrical group.

The Players will present four public performances of the popular Broadway musical on two consecutive Friday and Saturday evenings, April 23 and 24 and April 30 and May 1, in the Grand Ballroom of the Granite City Elks Club, 1320 Niedringhaus Ave.

Appearing in the title role of "The Music Man" will be William Hoelscher, one of the founders of the Players theatre group. Miss Humphrey will make her debut on the local theatre stage as Marian, the librarian.

Long active in community theatre, Hoelscher's casting as Harold Hill, "the hottest band instrument salesman in the Midwest," is his first leading role with the Players group.

"Forum" Role
He has appeared in the "Fraternal Follies" benefit shows and with the Masquers in "Carnival" and "The King and I." Hoelscher also won acclaim for his characterization of Pseudo-Paul, the slave, in "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum."

A native of Granite City, Hoelscher is employed as general manager and secretary of the Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities. An attorney, he attended the College of Law at the University of Illinois.

While reading in California, he was active in theatrical groups, taking roles in "The Student Prince," "Anything Goes" and many other productions. In her initial appearance as a Players member, Miss Humphrey will sing all the popular songs from "The Music Man," including "Till There Was You" and "My White Knight."

As Marian, the librarian, she is primarily responsible for transforming loud, audacious Harold Hill from a scheming con man into a commendable citizen.

Appeared in Musicals
Miss Humphrey, a 1969 graduate of Howard Payne College where she received a bachelor's degree in Music Education, is a teacher at Washington Grade School. During college and high school she appeared in musicals such as "Oklahoma," "Bye Bye Birdie," and once before in "The Music Man."

Other productions in which she was cast included a major role in the opera, "The Gypsy Baron," and as soloist in Handel's "Messiah." She was named to "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities" while at Howard Payne College.

Miss Humphrey is the daughter of Carl W. Humphrey, owner of Peck's Radiator Repair in Granite City, and Mrs. Gladys Humphrey of Richmond Heights, Mo.

Rehearsals for "The Music Man" are continuing at the Elks Club, where the production will be staged in a cabaret setting, enabling patrons to enjoy refreshments during the performances.

City Insists Crossing Be Kept Partly Open

A request by the Norfolk & Western Railroad that it be permitted to shut down the 25th Street crossing for "two or three days" to make repairs, insisted upon by the Granite City council was turned down by city aldermen Monday night.

Council members said they believed the repairs should be made, as most of them are, by closing off only half of a thoroughfare at one time.

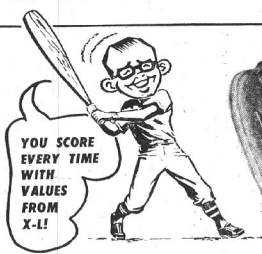

About a month ago, the council told the railroad the crossing would have to be fixed and asked that the city be notified as to arrangements.

The railroad wrote back that it would like to shut down the crossing entirely for two or three days. The council said that the work instead should be done in half sections.

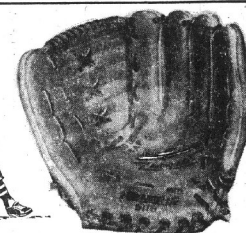

The railroad wrote back again Monday night. Again the council said "no."

GC Borrows Fire Truck Until New One Arrives

Granite City is confronted by an "emergency" in the shortage of firefighting equipment, city firemen needed to fill in for council members were told Monday night.

A Mayor Donald Partney, referring to last Friday's tragic accident in which a Mitchell man and his seven-year-old son were killed in an auto-fire truck collision, told the aldermen:

"We're almost out of business when it comes to fighting fires." Because of the problem, the mayor added, Granite City has been offered the loan of a 1,000-gallon, second-hand pump engine by Leo Eliebracht of St. Louis County without cost except that the city cover the equipment with insurance.

"This is probably a $4,000 insurance matter," the mayor explained.

Vehicle of Comparable Age He pointed out that the pump was taken in on trade and that its age probably is comparable to the Granite City truck put out of operation by the crash last week at 27th Street and Madison Avenue.

"We can't afford to turn this down because we are in bad condition as far as firefighting equipment is concerned," Partney said.

The truck involved in the accident was a 1967 model used as a back-up pump for other equipment. It was damaged extensively when it struck the rear of an auto during a run on a fire call to the 1300 block of Garfield Avenue.

At the same time, Alderman Emerald Dawes, chairman of the council's Fire and Water Committee, asked the council to approve a request by Fire Chief Earl Fronhager that he be allowed to pay overtime to firemen needed to fill in for two firemen injured in Friday's collision and other manpower shortages resulting from illness.

Fronhager was unable to attend Monday night's council session. Police Chief Ron Vizez commented that it is frequently more economical to pay overtime to fill vacant manpower positions than it is to hire additional employees.

Mayor Partney explained that Fire Chief Fronhager has arranged for the loan of the equipment and that "this will help us until we get delivery on a new truck."

Delivery in August The city now has on order a new LaFrance fire truck which is scheduled for delivery in August or September at a cost approximating $40,000.

The new fire truck was ordered last September and will be paid for out of this year's 1971-72 city budget. In addition, this year's budget as tentatively proposed by Mayor Partney provides for the purchase of another fire truck at a cost of $40,000.

Delivery of new fire trucks customarily requires about one year from the time they are ordered. Consequently, a second truck under the 1971-72 budget cannot be anticipated as an addition to the city's firefighting equipment until late 1972.

A resolution authorizing purchase of insurance to cover the loaned fire truck at premiums yet undetermined was approved without dissent.

Several aldermen challenged the need of a council floor motion to authorize payment of overtime to firemen needed to fill vacant posts. They maintained this was the prerogative of the fire chief. Dawes insisted on council approval, which was voted unanimously.

Three Granite Cityans were added to the rolls of the Legion of Honor of the Egyptian Precinct at its annual obligatory dinner observance at the Elks Lodge in Belleville Thursday evening.

Members also agreed to sponsor Ron Fuller Love of East Moline, state master councilor, and Chuck Hillman of Granite City, state senior councilor, at the DeMolay Congress later this month in Sacramento, Calif.

Intensive French Class Proves Successful

If learning a foreign language is "actual doing and using," as one instructor put it, then an innovative, intensive study program in French has proven itself a success.

Trend to Charge Accounts For Students, Other Youths

To a clerk's question, "Is this cash or charge?" an increasing number of those who say "Charge it please," are under 21.

Nearly three-fourths of today's college students use oil company, department store, airline and/or bank credit cards, reports the Family Economics Bureau.

Many stores and businesses also issue credit cards to teenagers. And the number is growing all the time.

Teenagers and young adults have proved to be good credit risks. They have money to spend, and they are concerned about living up to their obligations. Scores of companies report that losses on accounts of young people are no higher than on all other accounts.

Started Decade Ago
Humble Oil Co. was among the first to realize the potential in the college market and began issuing credit cards to college students about 10 years ago. They issue cards to students with an expiration date.

The cards are automatically renewed for good customers and terminated for those with poor payment records.

Renberg's Department Store of Tulsa, Okla., issues cards to college juniors and seniors with a limit of $200. They are converted to regular accounts upon graduation.

Pan Am's travel card is offered to college juniors and seniors with a C-plus average—a parent's co-signature being necessary if the student is under 21.

While credit card use by BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR BETH ANN TURNER
Beth Ann Turner, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Turner, 2329 Buell St., entertained friends at a birthday party last week given by her parents at their home.

The guests present were Dawn Roth, Bradley Voss, Christie Peterson, Ann Marie Lipchik, Allyson Beatty, Jimmy Small, Patti Pulley, Mark Siegel, Denise Groff, Jeff Welborn, Mike Lombardi, Kim Fountain, Sarah Yenne, Janine Medica, Karla Stawar, Joyce Harshany, Derek Robertson, Jenny Bertacchi, Khari Tanase, Steffie Ryan, the honoree, her sister Anita, and an aunt, Mrs. Ruby DeForest.

those under 21 is extensive, many businesses and banks are reluctant to become deeply involved in this market.

Problem in Some States
The major reason is that, in most states, a minor may not sign a binding contract. Thus, he is not legally responsible for his debts. And so most firms which issue credit to teenagers insist on a guarantee of payment from parents.

But some firms are becoming liberal. In this category is the Valley State National Bank of Arizona, a pioneer in youth credit programs. Its experience in issuing Master Charge cards to college students has been so good that restrictions such as special application blanks, distinctive cards and lower credit limits have been lifted. Valley National and the Citizens and Southern Bank of Atlanta are among those which assume the full risk and do not require co-signers. And credit is no longer confined to students.

L. S. Ayers Department Store in Indianapolis has a charge system for the 18 to 21-year group—with accounts limited to $100. No adult co-signers are required—an applicant needs only to be employed full or part-time. Sears, J. C. Penney Co. and many others have similar plans.

Include High School Juniors
Many firms hesitate to take the plunge below 18 years, yet Dayton's, a Minneapolis department store, issues charge accounts to high school juniors and seniors with proof of part-time employment and parental permission.

Sears has no age limit on its accounts. It has opened accounts for newboys who have charged bicycles and paid for them out of their earnings.

As use of credit cards became widespread by the older generation, business began to allow the use of parent's account by minors. Then firms started with college students in extending credit to the young. The thinking was that anyone who maintains passing grades through two years of college is responsible enough to handle credit.

Next, business realized that not all responsible young people are in college. Hundreds of thousands in their late teens are working full-time and assuming complete responsibility for their financial activities; many of them married, setting up homes and starting families.

The good experiences firms had with college students made them willing to tap the young, non-college market.

Customer Loyalty
Companies involved in teenage credit like the program by helping young people establish credit in the community, it builds customer loyalty. The jeweler who gives credit on a $10 radio today doesn't make much on it, but he will when the customer comes back to buy a diamond engagement ring.

Traditional standards for measuring credit worthiness cannot be applied to the youth group. Short-term employment is not a detriment. Although the young person's income may be lower than an older applicant's, the younger credit card user generally does not have the heavy expenses of children, mortgage payments, insurance and medical bills. Everyone must open his first account sometime. The fact that a youngster has no other accounts is a good sign—there are fewer demands on his money.

In the absence of previous credit history, indicators of character and responsibility are important factors.

Today's young people are smarter than those of a generation or so ago—and ready for adult responsibility earlier than their parents. They need and want help with their personal finances. Student accounts are an education, say some advocates.

Economic IQ Test
The Economic Intelligence Quotient Test, developed at Georgia State College, measures how adequately prepared high school seniors are to live in our economic society.

When given to 21,000 students, it was found that two-thirds were unable to work simple problems involving carrying charges on department store accounts. Only 10% were able to determine the least expensive repayment schedule for a short-term loan.

High school home economics programs have recently started to include classes for both boys and girls in consumer education; consumer credit is covered extensively in these courses.

Many companies make available resource materials designed for use in such classes.

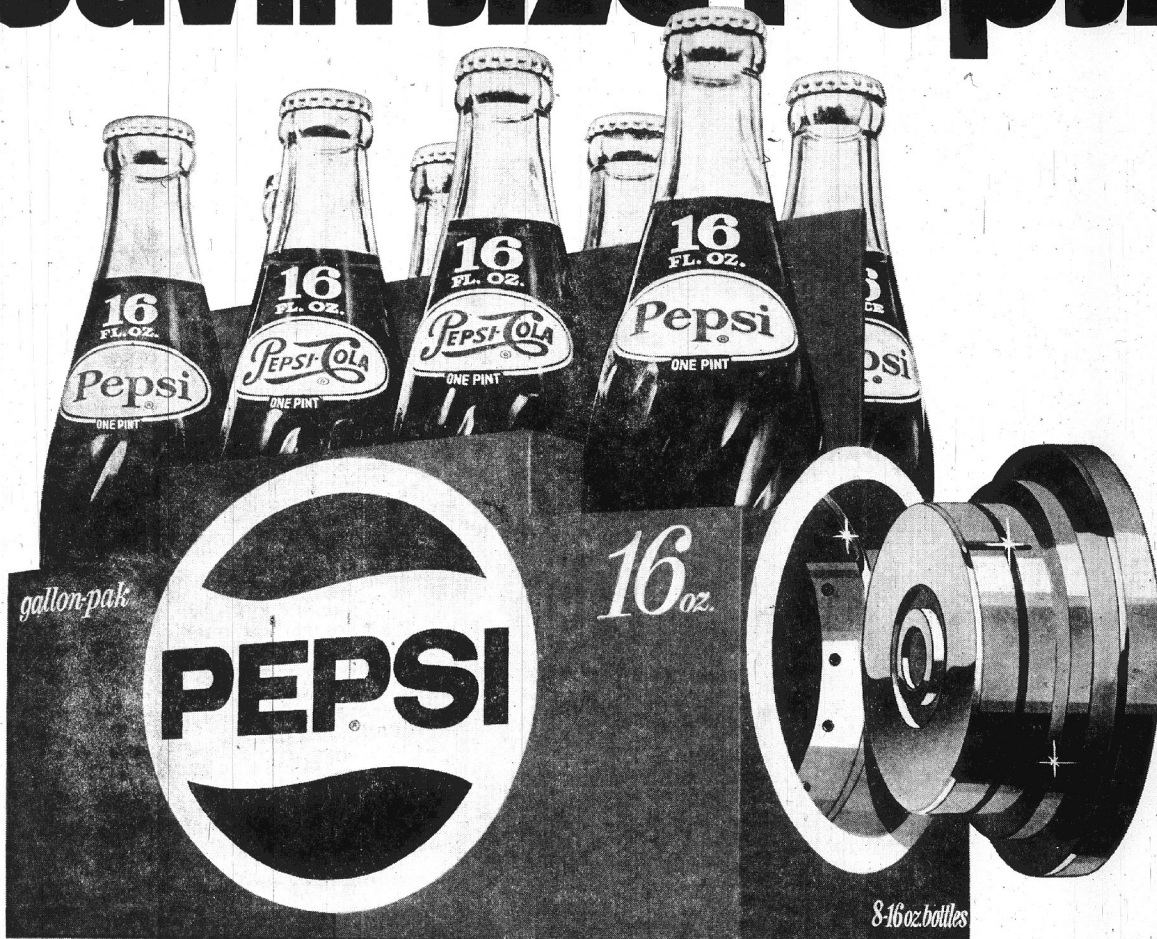

Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Co. has a financial education program available to all public and parochial schools in the Chicago area.

The youth of today have seen the problems that plagued their parents through overuse of consumer credit. With this example before them, and the new emphasis on education in financial matters, perhaps today's teenagers can make a more impressive financial and credit record than their parents.

Only time—and time payments—will tell.

Vocal Students Present 'Poetry-Music' Tonight

A concert of "Poetry and Music" will be presented at 8 p.m. today at the Granite City High School cafeteria by members of the school's vocal music department. The public is invited to attend and no admission will be charged.

Uniquely different from other concerts presented by the vocal department, tonight's offering will be comprised of three groupings of poems by well-known poets set to music by noted contemporary composers, according to Raymond Voorhees, vocal music instructor.

Voorhees explained the first set of poems is a collection from the works of Robert Louis Stevenson's "A Child's Garden of Verses," describing some of the events and thoughts of a child. The musical setting for the poetry will be performed by Contando.

Featured in the second selection are poems by various English authors, entitled "Villanelles," set to music by Jean Berger and presented by the Madrigal Singers.

Many of Robert Frost's most appreciated poems, set to music by Randall Thompson, are included in the final series to be performed by the Advanced Mixed Chorus, Voorhees noted. Among those chosen for presentation this evening are "Stopping by Woods on a Snowy Evening," "The Road Not Taken," and "Choose Something Like a Star."

Nancy Zang Makes Dean's List at SIU

Miss Nancy Zang has been included on the dean's list at Illinois State University at Normal for the first semester.

She is a resident assistant and staff member of Jefferson House in the 28-story dormitory, Waterson Towers.

Entrance Cutoff Unlikely at SIU In Carbondale

The admissions director of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale sees little likelihood of an entrance cutoff for freshmen and transfer students planning to attend SIU next fall.

While several Illinois schools have already closed fall-term admissions for beginning freshmen and others indicate that closing dates are imminent, it does not seem likely at this time that SIU at Carbondale will have to do so, said Jerre Pfaff.

SIU at Carbondale does have an enrollment quota of 11,472 undergraduates (freshman sophomores) students next fall. No more freshmen or sophomores will be registered if and when that total is reached.

SIU's southwestern campus fixed its total enrollment at 13,700 for registration purposes last fall. No similar action has yet been taken for the fall 1971 quarter.

Pfaff said students planning to transfer to SIU-Carbondale this fall from two-year schools should submit admissions forms now. Those who have attended a junior college on the semester system will be considered for admission if they have an overall "C" average. Students from quarter-plan schools will be considered on the basis of a partial record after the winter term.

For new freshmen, the entrance requirements are upper-half high school class standing or an equivalent score on the American College Test. High school graduates unable to meet the requirement may be considered for summer term admission on a probationary basis.

Tri-City Shriners Plan Events; Attend Church

Members of the Tri-City Shrine Club observed "Church Attendance Day" during the weekend by attending services at the First United Presbyterian Church of Granite City. The occasion was observed by all Ainal Temple Shriners who selected a church in their community to attend en masse. In succeeding years, different churches will be designated for the special observance. A series of future activities involving the Tri-City Shrine Club was announced today by Thurl Jones, newly installed president. One of the largest projects of its type will take place Sunday, April 18, on the grounds of St. Elizabeth Parochial School, when Shriners and Knights of Columbus members will sponsor the first annual "Chicken Fry and Bafecue."

Proceeds from the benefit event will be divided between the two organizations to assist handicapped children and with transportation expenses for severely burned youngsters from this area to the Shriners Burns Institute in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Jones said this week that tickets are now available from Shriners and K of C members, costing $2 per person. Volunteers to help at the day-long event also are being sought among local club members.

International Shrine Hospital Day has been designated this year on May 16, Jones advised, when the public is invited to inspect Shriners-supported hospitals, including the institution in St. Louis County. Entertainment and refreshments are planned for the annual observance, he said.

The Tri-City Shrine Club will again sponsor its popular annual "Fish Fry" on the parking lot at Schermer Bros. Market, 12th street and Madison avenue, on May 28 and 29, and on Sunday, June 13, the Blue Lodge Masonic groups of Highland, Marine and Granite City will hold their annual carnival and picnic at Highland Park. Jones reported that Noble Chester Dean is supervising the sale of Tri-City Shrine Club shoulder patches. He urged each member to purchase the identifying insignia.

New members welcomed into the local club included Richard H. Brown and Dorset Hudson, the official said.

AWARD WINNER at Schermer's Market, 1200 Madison Ave., Madison, during the weekend was Ira Reed, 1225 Calhoun St., Venice, shown with Avery Schermer, operator of the market who presented Reed with a check for $300. It was the third prize winner in three weeks.

Italian Cities Topic Of Travelers Abroad

Mrs. Helen Gantcheff was the featured speaker at the monthly meeting of Travelers Abroad Monday at Prather Junior High School.

She showed colored slides of Rome, Florence and Venice Italy and displayed articles purchased while on tour of the country.

Donald Rouland was appointed to complete arrangements for the annual summer dinner in May which closes the meeting season until September.

The informal meeting was held in the school library for 38 members. The next meeting is set for April 26 when Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lynn will provide the program.

Regional Report -- Plan Underestimates Needs, Potential of SIU-SW and Region

(Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation)

Residents of this region contend that the proposed Phase III of the Master Plan for Higher Education in Illinois seriously underestimates the needs and potential of the multi-county area.

Among those appearing at the public hearing held at Edwardsville by the Board of Higher Education was Arthur C. Becker, retired Edwardsville banker and spokesman for Illinois Metro East Corp.

Becker suggested to the board that the cultural and educational well-being of the area demands all Southern Illinois University can offer today—and even more.

The proposed new metropolitan airport was both supported and opposed.

After a meeting in New York, Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie announced that executives of the nine airlines serving the St. Louis area have given an oral commitment to support any location for the new airport approved by the Federal Aviation Agency and necessary local authorization and would move their operations to the new airport from Lambert Field.

Currently, the FAA seems inclined to the less expensive and closer airport sites in the Illinois portion of the St. Louis region.

Additional support for the location of the airport in Illinois was given by the Madison County Board of Supervisors.

In Monroe County, the Columbia City Council has directed its city attorney to prepare a resolution opposing a new airport near the city.

It was announced that the final site and environmental impact studies for the Illinois airport sites will not be completed by the end of this month.

Plans for a new five-story, L-shaped courthouse were presented by the St. Clair County Public Building Commission.

The new $7.5 million building would be built on the southwest portion of the Belleville Public Square.

Buildings currently on the site, including the existing courthouse, will be razed as the construction of the new courthouse progresses.

A large courtyard, containing numerous trees and stone columns of the present courthouse is included in the site design.

Bids on bonds to erect the new building will be taken on April 22 on the third floor of the existing courthouse.

St. Clair County recently dedicated a new jail, also built by bonds through the Public Building Commission.

The conflict between workers seemed to escalate with the beating of five white workers by blacks in East St. Louis.

After the incident, 40 union business representatives met to discuss how to defend themselves.

In previous weeks, some construction projects there had been closed following demands by blacks that they be given jobs on the projects.

The Illinois Arts Council seems to be the next stop for the Mississippi River Festival.

In a press conference in Springfield, Gov. Ogilvie urged the backers of the festival to seek financial help from the council.

The governor's suggestion follows a request by the president of the Mississippi River Festival, Inc., to write letters to the governor making for his support for legislation to finance the coming season of the festival.

The largest savings and loan association outside the Chicago area is now located in this region. Illinois Federal Savings and Loan of East St. Louis has merged with the Plaza First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Alton.

The name of both associations is now Illinois Federal Savings, with assets of $165 million. The merger was approved by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

Several weeks ago, Illinois Federal announced plans to open a new office in Fairview Heights.

Chevrolet Impala.

All the reason you could want for buying a big car.

Impala. Big in what it builds in for you. Like a longer, smoother wheelbase that absorbs much of what your body used to. A new double panel roof that absorbs much of the noise your ears used to. More roominess than any other car in its field. A new power ventilation system that keeps on bringing you outside air, even when the car's standing still. You even get standard power disc brakes, up front. Impala. Big in built-ins. Big in trade-in value.

And now, two new reasons for buying something sportier.

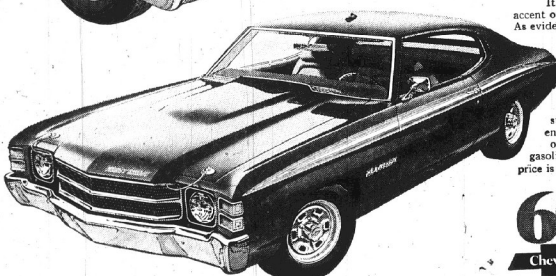

Announcing Rally Nova. 60th Anniversary Special No. 1.

Chevrolet's been making cars now for 60 years. That's reason to celebrate. And to offer you Rally Nova. Which is a regular Nova we've done up. By adding accent stripes. A black grille. A remote-control sport mirror. Color-keyed carpeting. Bright roof molding. A special suspension. And wider 14 x 6 rally wheels. We offer you a selection of the standard 6 or V8 engine. Or a bigger V8. All run just fine on no-lead, low-lead gasoline, too. Rally Nova. The economy car that puts you first by looking like it costs a lot more than it does.

Announcing Heavy Chevy. 60th Anniversary Special No. 2.

It's a Chevelle with a heavy accent on making its presence felt. As evidenced by its special stripes. Special identification on the side. Special domed hood with lock pins. Black grille. And 14 x 6 rally wheels. Some more nice things: It's available with our standard V8, or three bigger engines. Which all move right out on no-lead or low-lead gasoline. Heavy Chevy. Only its price is light.

Steel Output Well Ahead Of Last Year

Domestic steel output ran ahead of its 1970 pace during the first two months of this year.

This gain reflects consumer steel stockpiling as a hedge against a possible strike in August of this year when the industry's labor contract expires.

According to American Iron and Steel Institute, domestic mills produced 22,134,000 tons of steel in the first two months of 1971. This compares with output of 21,715,000 tons in January and February last year.

February, 1971 steel production was 10,860,000 tons, a gain of 362,000 tons over the same month of 1970, when output totaled 10,498,000 tons.

Basic oxygen furnaces—which poured 5,329,000 tons of steel during February of this year—accounted for nearly half of the month's total output. Open hearths produced 3,741,000 tons of the month's steel, and electric furnaces the remaining 1,790,000 tons.

AISI's steelmaking index, based on average production during 1967 as 100, stood at 111.3 in February, 1971. This compares with an index of 104.3 for January, and a February, 1970 index of 107.6.

Court Order Cutting Appointive Power Is Gag Rule, Mayor Says -- Will Appeal

A circuit court ruling delegating authority for appointment of city officers or personnel to the city council will be appealed to the appellate court and then to the supreme court, if necessary, Mayor Donald Parnley announced Tuesday.

At the same time the mayor said the court ruling that divested the mayor of authority to appoint a fire chief or police chief would deprive Granite City of a duly appointed fire chief or police chief.

"They are only serving in that capacity," the mayor said. In a statement responding to the order handed down last week in circuit court at Edwardsville by Circuit Judge Howard Lee White, the mayor said:

"To be or not to be just a figurehead or a puppet on a string. That is the question, as seen by the mayor. To fiddle while the city is corrupted, plunged into financial bankruptcy, or thrown into administrative chaos is not a characteristic or trait to which I shall ever subscribe. What seems on the surface to be merely an interpretation of the law, in reality, means the people's voice through their mayor is 'gagged.' Anyone familiar with formal meeting procedures is aware of what a gag rule can result in. That you may be seen but not heard."

Cites Examples
"When I say that certain aldermen have handicapped our City I feel it should be supported by examples. I do avoid going too far back into the history of our council activities, may I mention a few rather recent incidents which you may readily recall."

"1. In 1970 I, your mayor, vetoed the appropriations ordinance because of proposed excessive spending, in my opinion. My reasons were: tax-exempted. Any increased tax burden should, by all means, be carefully weighed as to its benefit compared to its cost."

"2. Secondly, I vetoed the council's action to abolish the office of the comptroller without providing a qualified person to assume the duties assigned that office. The council overrode the veto and the tremendous task of watching our budget fell on the city clerk who had openly stated that he was not prepared to assume this responsibility."

"The result was that we lost a dedicated man in our city government. Who assumed the obligations? Robert Stevens, Granite City Steel Company's 1970 tax payments included $4,084,000 in real and personal property taxes in local tax-supported bodies, mainly the public schools of Granite City and the city and county governments. It was announced in the 1970 annual report to stockholders. The company is the largest single taxpayer in Madison County."

The company's tax payments in 1970 included $2,337,238 in School District No. 9 in Granite City, $624,967 to the city of Granite City, $238,506 to Madison County and $116,133 to the Granite City park district. Granite City Steel's 1970 payroll, including the cost of wages, salaries and employee benefits, also rose to a record high of $82,200,000, compared with $58,226,000 in 1969. The major economic impact of the company's payroll is felt in Granite City, where almost half of the 5,400 employees live. Collinsville, Edwardsville and Madison also account for many Granite City Steel employees.

Granite City Steel is the largest steel company in the St. Louis metropolitan area and the only producer of plate, hot and cold rolled sheet, galvanized sheet and other flat-rolled steel products.

The company's largest aircraft, the C-5 Galaxy, will be on public display Saturday from 1 to 3 p.m. at Scott Air Force Base. The huge airlifter is the newest addition to the inventory of the Military Airlift Command. A C-141 Starliner, the backbone of the MAC airlift force, also will be on display.

The planes are part of an orientation program for students of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Defense College who will be visiting Scott and the local metropolitan area.

The static display Saturday afternoon will mark the second time the C-5 has been available for walk-through in this area. More than 30,000 people viewed the C-5 at Scott last summer. Scott is located seven miles east of Belleville on Highway 158. Visitors are asked to use the south entrance to the base, off Highway 161.

Parked Auto Struck
An auto driven by Kathy P. Forte, 3112 Willow Ave., went out of control, struck the parked auto of Sandra Harper, 2569 Ivy Lane, and stopped on the sidewalk at 7:50 p.m. Tuesday at 2501 Iowa St. She was charged with driving too fast for conditions.

delmar stop signs at 25th Street approved

A series of new traffic controls on Granite City streets was approved by the city council Monday night, including stop signs at 25th Street on Delmar Avenue, where there has been no previous traffic control.

The 25th Street stop will be for both northbound and southbound traffic on Delmar.

All other traffic controls approved in ordinance adopted by the council Monday night are for locations at which there have been no previous controls. These include:

Stop signs on Wilson at Maryville Road; stop sign on Sunbury at Wilson; stop sign on Cardinal at National; stop sign on Delta at National; stop sign on Terminal Avenue at Maryville Road; stop sign on Cardinal at Cardinal Court.

The council instructed the city street department to erect signs at the new stops, and approved the usual penalty of a fine of from $5 to $100 for violating the ordinances.

Danny is Retarded, but Has Expression Through 'Art' in State School Program

Danny is 7 years old. Like many 7-year-old boys, he is a football fan. Danny also loves his mother, ponies, ice cream, his dog, story books and painting brightly colored pictures. Danny is so like other little boys, and yet he is very special. Danny is mentally retarded. He is classified as educable mentally handicapped.

He has never met Michael J. Bakalis, Illinois superintendent of public instruction, but Dr. Bakalis has become vitally interested in Danny's abilities and his future. Danny would not recognize the names of Rembrandt, Degas or LaTouche, but in his own right, he is a celebrated artist. His work is included in the second annual State Exhibit of Art by Handicapped Children.

Danny's ability to learn is from a fourth to three quarters slower than that of the average child. At 16 years of age, he will have reached his maximum level of maturity, a level similar to that of the average fourth grader.

Cause Undetermined
Scientists disagree on what causes this type of disability. Some believe it is the result of pre- or post-natal injury or birth defects, while others feel it is the result of adverse environmental conditions during early development.

The debate holds little immediate relevance for Danny and other Illinois children with similar disabilities.

Like other small children, Danny is occupied with his personal needs and desires. He wants love and recognition for what he does well.

"The purpose of the educational system is to develop the capacity of each pupil to learn to the full extent of his ability—that is, to meet the individual needs of the child," Bakalis said.

"Art is one of the few school programs which is flexible enough to meet the needs of all children—from the most highly gifted to the most severely handicapped."

"Art is more than playing with paints, drawing and coloring," the superintendent continued. "It is a media which allows total freedom of expression."

A deaf child who never learned to talk and cannot say "bird" draws a robin which will never hear singing. Through art, he has found a form of communication.

A girl who has no hands holds a paintbrush between her teeth. A spastic slides his paint-covered hands across a posterboard and creates.

Expressions Differ
The blind boy listens to his teacher identify the colors and paints a sound. A blind girl gives the same sound form in clay.

An emotionally disturbed child paints his mother in thick black lines on water-color paper. A mentally handicapped girl cuts pictures from a stack of magazines and pastes them to construction paper.

"Children love art. It gives them the ability to say things they could never otherwise say. And when they are finished, they have something they alone created. Something they can share with others," Bakalis said.

Danny is neither the most severely nor the least handicapped child whose art has been chosen for the 1971-72 Art by Handicapped Children Exhibit.

As an adult, he will be able to function in a supervised environment and to handle the responsibilities of a routine unskilled or semi-skilled job. He will be a contributing member of society.

The less handicapped will have greater mobility in society, while the extremely mentally and multiply-physically handicapped can expect only limited mobility within a closely supervised environment.

Symbol of Hope
For Dr. Bakalis, Danny has become a symbol of hope for the severely handicapped.

New programs are being developed to help all disabled children become contributing members of society. In the meantime, pride is one of the chief benefits projects such as Art by Handicapped Children Exhibit can give such children. The exhibit includes art by children representing all areas of handicaps.

"The Exhibit is designed to recognize and reward the efforts of the handicapped," Bakalis said, but it also draws public attention to the abilities of these children and makes taxpayers of the State aware of how their money is being used to improve the lives of others."

Danny was one of the more than 700 pieces of art submitted by students at more than 90 public and private agencies for this year's exhibit.

The exhibit will be divided into four exhibits for display through the state during 1971.

Training Schools Open For Army Programs

The U. S. Army has announced the need for young men and women in the field of communications and for men to become machinists and welders.

A 12-week communication school is conducted at Fort Gordon, Ga., where a student is provided with a working knowledge of communications center operations and a general knowledge of the use of cryptographic systems and equipment for encryption and decryption of classified messages.

A 15-week course for machinists is offered at the Army Ordnance School, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.

Students will be trained to fabricate metal parts and modify machine parts, metal casting and forgings for armament, automotive and other military equipment and tools. They will learn lathe and milling operations.

An 11-week welding school also is held at Aberdeen. It provides the student with a working knowledge of inert gas welding and electric arc welding for all-fabricate metal articles.

Full information on the programs may be obtained by contacting the Army Recruiting Office, 1206 Niedringhaus Ave.

Parked Car Struck, Driver Faces Charges
William F. Baker, 2259 Monroe St., faced two traffic charges after his auto struck a car owned by Merrill F. Kueker, Troy, parked in front of his home Monday.

He left the scene and was apprehended by Troy police at Route 162 and Interstate 55. He was released from the Madison County Jail after posting $50 cash bail and his driver's license, sheriff's deputies reported.

APPRECIATION PLAQUE is presented Mr. and Mrs. Edward Boyd by Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison on behalf of the parents of the Checkerboard Square dancers. Mr. and Mrs. Boyd have been directing the dancers since 1957 when the group was known as the Tadpole Squares.

SIU Board Delays Work On Carbondale Project

Action on construction bids for a new classroom-office building at Southern Illinois University's Vocational-Technical Institute at Carbondale has been postponed by the SIU board of trustees.

The trustees decided to delay temporarily any recommendation on the apparent low bid, which was 19% above estimates. It is $450,000 above funds available for the project, according to University Architect Charles Pulley.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

Thurs., Mar. 25, 1971 Page 37

Construction bids were taken by the Illinois Building Authority in Chicago. Carney General Contractors of Highland Park submitted the lowest of five proposals.

Pulley said the $2,410,000 available for construction includes a $227,874 federal grant and a 10% reserve fund set aside to cover construction cost increases since the project was first approved.

Attention to Details Is Enabling Nameoki Town Funds to Be Saved

To the Editor: In June 1970, the auditors of Nameoki Township, led by Lou Whitsell, who is presently town clerk and candidate for supervisor, discovered some unusual facts in the mosquito abatement program of the township.

The present supervisor had bought $2,200 worth of mosquito spray concentrate at $10.20 a gallon. We regard it as overpriced and unfit to use around animals or humans.

The supervisor refused to return this to the company and paid for it over the vigorous protest of the auditors.

The auditors then purchased a product, recommended by the Department of Agriculture, at $1 per gallon. This was not only a great saving in cost, but more economical, as it can be used more highly diluted.

At the same time, the past costing $300 was needed for the mosquito spray owned by the township. Mr. Whitsell, as town clerk, found five used sprayers in St. Louis which were purchased for $200.

Of the sprayers purchased, the needed part was obtained, a good second sprayer was provided and enough spare parts are left for future repairs.

A third sprayer was assembled and sold for $150, leaving the township a tidy profit.

Admittedly, this is a small matter in the yearly budget of the township. But it clearly demonstrates the attention to detail, the efforts to save taxpayers' money, and other economies which Mr. Whitsell and the auditors are providing.

We wish Mr. Whitsell his running-mate success. We wish them their campaign for election to the offices of supervisor and highway commissioner of Nameoki Township.

SEWER BREAK ENGINEER ECONOMIZED FOR PUBLIC
To the Editor: Many of my friends have brought to my attention certain derogatory assertions being made with respect to my position on the employment of an engineering firm for the design and development of the city's secondary sewage treatment facilities and interceptor sewers.

What I said in behalf of the engineering firm that has been used for the last seven years, I said publicly in open meetings of the city council, not in closed meetings.

Anyone in attendance at the council meetings can verify the fact that the mayor and councilmen tried to prevent me from stating publicly what I believe to be the truth.

I spoke in behalf of the poor home owner, now already overburdened with taxes, for an engineering firm that has delivered honest, efficient, low-cost service at a saving to the home owner of thousands of dollars.

In the Peeling Road sewer break, which was originally repaired by the city, this firm saved the Granite City taxpayer more than $127,000 by making a request for reimbursement on behalf of the taxpayer, with no instructions from the mayor or council.

In a comparison study for the years 1960 to 1968, the record shows an average fee paid other engineering firms of 5.2%. The average engineering fee that was paid the firm I defended in behalf of the taxpayer was only 5.2%.

On the Terrace Lane sewer break, the cost was $289,281 and the other firm's engineering cost was $86,071, or 32%.

Passenger Service from Here to Chicago, East Coast Assured Under Railroad Program

It is good to know that this metropolitan area is included in the several routes approved by the National Railroad Passenger Corporation for the new Railroad System to be started May 1.

Although railroads which choose to join the government-backed system may elect to discontinue passenger service on non-Railroad routes—which theoretically could cut St. Louis passenger service in half—the plan offers far more service than the original Railroad proposal.

This region is to be connected to Chicago by way of Springfield and Bloomington, with two trains a day in each direction; to Kansas City, by way of Jefferson City, with one train a day each way; to New York via Indianapolis, Pittsburgh and Harrisburg, with one train a day in each direction; and to Washington, D.C., by way of Terre Haute, Indianapolis, Columbus, Pittsburgh and Baltimore, with one train daily each way.

Whether the Railroad system will be attractive to various railroads remains to be seen. Those which do not join must continue present service until Jan. 1, 1975.

Whether it will be the solution to the railroads' declining efficiency and revenue also is uncertain. But it was obvious that something new should be tried. And some of the steps which are scheduled make sense—schedules at reasonable hours, use of modern equipment by pooling resources, speeds as fast as track conditions and safety requirements permit, better food service on all trips and sleeping car service on overnight runs.

We have ridden Japan's "bullet train" and have been impressed by its speed, smooth ride and the comfort and attractiveness of its passenger cars.

Despite the inroads made in the U.S. by autos, planes and buses, we believe a substantial passenger market could be developed for trains of similar attractiveness and efficiency, even if they were somewhat slower than the 135-miles-an-hour "bullet."

No $300,000 'Castle' for Voting Machines

It is understandable that members of the Madison County Board of Supervisors voiced objections March 17 to a plan to build a $300,000 machine storage building costing as much as $300,000.

It was initially estimated that suitable facilities could be erected on county-owned land for $40,000, and the supervisors had appropriated $60,000 for a structure to house 400 machines.

County officials sense needs to prevail on such an issue, rather than projections made by someone interested in constructing a monument to himself.

Q Do I have to report interest on my tax return?
A Yes. Items such as savings, bonds and interest on your tax return are taxable and must be reported.

Q However, you have the option of reporting the interest each year as the redemption value increases or all at once when the bonds are redeemed, or mature, which ever is earlier.

Q If you elect the yearly method of reporting, you must continue it even for all future bond purchases.

Q To report the interest from the savings bonds, add it to your other total income, and deduct the interest on line 14 of Form 1040.

Q If your total interest income is over $100, the amounts and source must be reported on line 15, which should be attached to your Form 1040.

Q Because I am suffering from a deficiency dividend, my doctor prescribed vitamins for me. Is the cost

Q If you received a "poison" pen letter falsely accusing you of committing a murder, would you be likely to win in a libel suit against the writer?
The answer is "no," unless a copy of the letter was sent to you by the writer or at least one person other than yourself.

Q According to Illinois law, you cannot defame a person unless the false and harmful information is communicated to someone other than the person spoken of or written about.

Q If the communication is written or broadcast on radio or television, the defamatory libel is libel, if it is spoken, it is slander.

Q Thus, you safely may accuse someone privately of wrongdoing, but not in public or where anyone else may hear you. The law protects only your reputation, not your feelings.

Q A person who is slandered or libeled can bring a civil suit against the offender for damage to his or her reputation.

Q If the communication is such Curbing of Mayor's Appointments Appears To Challenge Orderly Functioning of City

We are inclined to agree with Mayor Portney that the administration and court ruling curbing his appointive power have created serious problems not only for whoever happens to be mayor but for the entire city government and the public. Positions could be vacated for months during disagreements over the soundness of various selections.

There is a saying about awkward monstrosities being "designed by a committee," and there is no question but that "too many cooks can spoil the broth" in the operation of a municipality. One can visualize the pressures on a law enforcement director whose future hinges on his latest popularity rating among council members.

One also can speculate on the deterioration of city staffs picked for their political color rather than objectively by a board of commissioners using uniform, well-thought-out criteria. The board retains its power at present but conceivably could become the next target of the council.

We hope the Circuit Court decision is appealed so that the outlook can be clarified. Whether voters should or will "clean house" at the polls April 6 among the aldermen who went to court is another matter.

The history of council elections has shown that incumbent aldermen have a strong chance of retaining major seats within their wards almost without relation to their stands on public issues. This fact is unfortunate because the voting record of an official—whether it is good or bad—ought to be a decisive factor in his future ballot success or failure.

In indicating plans to file an appeal, the mayor has indicated that nine aldermen cast affirmative votes on each of four issues—to rehire the engineering firm which supervised past sewer installations; to abolish the controller office (and then to "eat crow" when they had ousted as controller); to have the council pick police and fire chiefs; and to curb other appointments by the mayor. The nine are Aldermen Bonarrich, Boyd, Dallas, Dawes, Green, Morlan, Nason, Poulos and Robertson.

No doubt the nine aldermen feel their actions have been justified, and will say so. Probably they will cite actions by the mayor which, in their opinion, have had an effect on the degree of city progress.

But some of the voting has been incredibly bad (along with many constructive and fair decisions). A couple of the votes led to the present impasse in which neither the mayor nor the council has a clearly defined path to follow in efforts to provide the services taxpayers want and need.

Where do we go from here? To court once more, and we hope the verdict is mercifully prompt.

Ice Hockey Tournament of Little Old St. Louis Held in Granite City Metropolis

The rationalization for taxes on out-of-towners like the St. Louis boys ice hockey tournament is that the city has a large number of visitors who have always been that the core metropolis provided many services utilized by residents of a much wider geographic area than the city itself.

There is much truth in this reasoning and we freely admit that we enjoy the Quad-Cities attraction to some of the big-city facilities mentioned.

But it is interesting to note a bit of a reversal—the St. Louis boys ice hockey tournament was held March 20 not in St. Louis but in Granite City, where better rink facilities were available.

Wonder if we ought to start a reverse city or park tax of some sort, especially now that the St. Louis planetarium is to be closed and St. Louis voters have rejected plans for a badly-needed convention center?

Winter Wonderland

"Every day in every way, we're getting better and better," this old saying cannot be 100% true for anybody or anything, but it is the goal of the Press-Record—past, present and future.

A large and dedicated staff of hard-working professionals in each department—mechanical, advertising, business and news—is endeavoring to provide an attractive, complete, interesting product.

Each issue differs greatly from the previous edition because that is the nature of life. The subjects which are newsworthy and the people and services which are in the spotlight, change constantly.

But there is a degree of continuity, as well. And there is steady improvement, building upon cumulative experience and traditions dating back to 1903, the year of the great flood here.

The extent of change and growth is discussed in the nationally-distributed 1970 annual report of the Post Corporation, owner of the Press-Record.

The colorful 24-page report includes a photograph of the Press-Record building, with Ralph McKinney, assistant advertising manager, pictured leaving the office to call on clients.

The report describes this community and relates the role of the Press-Record in its role in publicizing their programs. We have the plagues to prove it.

This is not to say that our pencils and cameras are everywhere, simultaneously. But we do have an increasingly active, mobile staff, and we do get valuable help from many interested readers.

Nor is it true that all one-size mentions all organizations. But over a period of time, more space is devoted to telling more facts about more local and regional groups than ever before. It is the case in any other Illinois or Missouri community that we know of.

What makes the task occasionally hectic is the same element which makes it so satisfying—people expect a lot from us, which is fine, because we have no other mission than to meet their needs and requests. Their requests cannot be met immediately or cannot be met in the precise way they desire. Notwithstanding, this, nearly every one of them is patient and understanding.

There is a welcome flow of information on some occasions greatly exceeds our available reporting capacity. It can be like assembling a jigsaw puzzle with extra pieces and with shapes that do not match.

Fortunately, the pieces are fitted into place each Monday and Thursday and the process results in a twice-a-week creation greater than the sum of its parts. We constantly report of the events and the issues of current interest to our readers.

We are still learning and innovating and expanding, as has been the case with the Press-Record for 68 years. I have been associated with this newspaper, and in the years before that.

There have always been "growing pains," but these are the kinds of problems it is enjoyable and challenging to deal with and solve.

Never before has the Press-Record been so broadly based in its ownership, resources, and combined know-how. Because of this, there is confidence in the future.

What must be done grows more complex, but more and more can be done with what we are being developed.

While this subsidiary does not issue an annual report, it joins the parent company in looking to the coming months with optimism—and in pledging thorough news coverage, informative background reporting, and varied advertising services to our varied advertisers, and continued dedication to the best interests of the public.

Merger Completed to Form Water Resources Congress

A merger of major importance to the broad field of resource conservation and development was consummated last week when principals of Water Resources Associated (formerly the Mississippi Valley Association) and National Rivers and Harbors Congress signed the merger documents.

The brief ceremony took place following approval earlier in the day of the merger proposal by the NR&HC membership, convened in Washington, D. C. for their 35th annual convention. The proposition had previously been ratified by W.R.A. at its annual meeting in Chicago, Feb. 1.

The resulting voluntary, non-profit corporation will be named Water Resources Congress.

Unification of the nation's two oldest and largest resource organizations is expected to bring a more unified and effective approach at the national level to promote sound, vigorous, and comprehensive water resource development in order to continue and expedite programs which are socially and economically beneficial to the citizens of the United States—water quality control, navigation, recreation, reclamation, soil conservation, environmental enhancement, irrigation, flood control, and others.

Water Resources Associated was founded in New Orleans in 1919. Its original purpose was to bolster flood protection on the lower Mississippi River and promote international trade through the Port of New Orleans.

Orders Start June 18 For Eisenhower Coins

Congressman Melvin Price, (D-East St. Louis) announced today that order blanks for proof and uncirculated silver Eisenhower dollar coins will be made available on June 18.

In order to insure wide distribution of ordering information, Congressman Price added, the United States Mint has made arrangements to supply the order forms and order procedures to commercial banks, post offices and his office, 2465 Rayburn Building, Washington, D. C. 20515.

Price said the Mint will begin accepting orders for the special Eisenhower dollar coins on July 1. Orders will be limited to five proof and five uncirculated coins. Separate orders must be submitted for each type.

As previously announced, the Mint plans to produce 150 million of the silver content Eisenhower coins. The price of the proof coin has been established at $10 per coin. The uncirculated coin has been priced at $3.00 per coin. The copper-nickel dollars for general circulation through commercial banks will not be available until late fall.

"Information as to where to order the coins will appear in the order forms and will be prominently reported in the news media. Order blanks will be in abundant supply and easily available," Price said.

Park Bill Includes 1,400 Acres in Madison County for Recreational Area

Congressman Melvin Price of this district has announced his co-sponsorship of a bill which would authorize the establishment of the Upper Mississippi National Recreation Area.

Price explained that the recreation area would extend from St. Louis to Minneapolis and St. Paul and could conceivably encompass up to 550,000 acres of land and 390,000 acres of water in the States of Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri and Wisconsin.

An estimated 1400 acres of land in Madison County would be included in this project.

"This project has great significance not only in light of regional development but also for the future growth of Southern Illinois," Mr. Price emphasized. The project, which means much for the recreation of the riverfront since it will directly tie in with the planned redevelopment of the East St. Louis riverfront, he said.

"This is especially evident in light of the proposed construction of the Great River Road and the project designed to consolidate freight facilities in the Illinois metropolitan area."

Mr. Price explained that the East St. Louis riverfront was not included in this project because the National Park Service already has made extensive plans for this area. The East St. Louis project and the Upper Mississippi project are meant, however, to be extensions of each other.

Follows Recommendations
"This proposal generally follows the recommendations of the Field Task Force that studied the area," Mr. Price pointed out. "The task force has found that the Upper Mississippi River possesses natural endowments well above the ordinary and is strategically located within easy driving distance of urban centers."

"The purpose of this bill," Mr. Price continued, "is to provide the needed land and facilities for recreational opportunities in the broadest sense and to maintain and enhance the aesthetic qualities of the river valley."

There would be 20 major units for acquisition, each one selected because it provides recreation for land-based and water-oriented recreation, or protects natural areas such as bluffs, unique sand dunes, or wildlife habitat. Thirty historic sites have been designated for national preservation and would be incorporated in the plan. The City of Alton is one of these sites due to its historic interest as an early important port and because it was the location of the last Lincoln-Douglas debate.

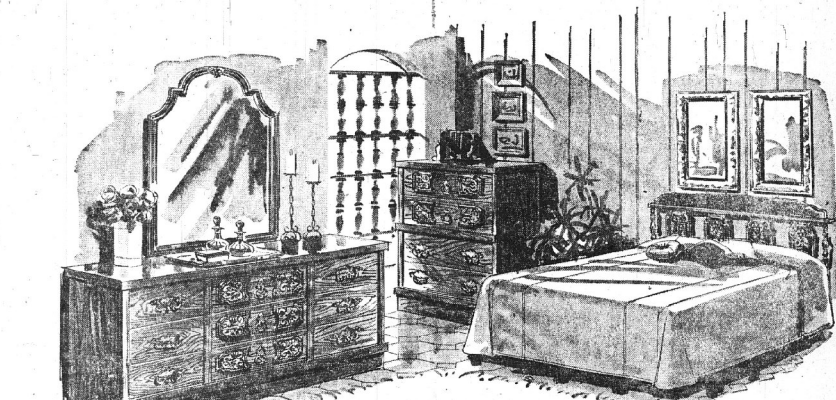

"The benefits this project holds for our area are immeasurable," Mr. Price reiterated.
